Between Ute and Kristoph, there was a good balance of speaking German and learning grammar, although too much time was spent following the textbook in order to learn greetings - too many repetitions of not very useful vocabulary. The choice of textbook seems inappropriate for a short course for adults with specific needs.

Overall, we had a very enjoyable time at Treffpunkt, during which we learned a lot about the language, its structure, its local variations. Both our instructors were ^{also} very ~~helpful~~ ^{keen} in helping us discover and understand ^{the} German culture. We leave Treffpunkt with the ~~knowledge~~ certainty that we can actually learn to speak German, and with a lot of material (vocabulary, grammar) that will help us do so in the future.
